The virus was one of those stupid outlook express HTML viruses, one of my new computers didnt have email virus checking on. One thing you should now, I never battled it out with Frost over code, it all went back to him burning me on batt. cards by charging back mastercard transactions and lying to master card that he sent the product back when he didn't. I ate it at the time, chalked it up to experience, but as time passed and all of a sudden I found out who this guy "wheels" was, and that he was heading up BNG, well it didn't take me long to get on the warpath....so I basically dumped and distributed his BNG code whenever I got my hands on the new version, it would drive him nuts, since his 'coder' told him it couldn't be dumped. (weren't counting on glitches....hmmm sounds like some other coders I know :))

JD is back in business :-(Strictly a distributor.

JD = mentally insane, when the guy says you have to pry the keyboard from his fingers, he means it. I never really cared too much for his personality, but he sure does sell a whackload of product, at least based on what I unlooped for him in the days...wannabe biker part I just don't understand...

You realize, there are hundreds of 'wanna-be' hackers and hundreds of new talented hackers out there. The world is bigger now than Von, Eddie, and Norman.

Certainly everybody and their dog is a wannabe hacker (script kiddiez more like it), but there really is not alot of true talent out there. (not saying there isn't any, just isn't alot) Most of these guys are sitting around waiting for someone else, instead of doing it themselves. The world has always been bigger than Von Eddie and Norm.

RE Echostar, we don't track it too but in Chat groups and other sources, indicators point to Zorac, Stuntguy and DR7.

As I told you in one of my last emails, the guy who popped the echo is Von. DR7 is a major front for Von, as Von is stateside (as I understand it). I have heard DR7(AI) has a box for loading echo, and he loads all the cards for Koin (andre/andy), the box has a 1000 card limit that needs to be reset by von(other chris). recently (the last 2-3 months) another source came out with an echo fix, but it was a straight clone of vons E3m.

Who was the other half of Big Gun (you mentioned he was half of a team earlier). He has been 'history for some time unless he uses another nick (Jeff and 'little Chis in Ron's camp are the BGs the past several years).

Alas, the other half of BigGun, is also non other than Vonnie. This is where I was confused when we chatted here, I got Jeff from E confused with Von from USA, as I was somewhat unaware of Jeffs location, although I knew of his existance. He (von/chris) keeps an extremely low profile, as my understanding is he has alot to lose. I believe he has access to fairly sophisticated lab through his employment, or at least did. I also know he is fairly young, and extremely cocky. I can recall him telling me of reading the EEPROM of the H through an E-Beam tester, and that valid results were evident by the text in the 0x8000 area (ie HUTV NDRTEAM etc.).

Your buddy (joke) :-) Frost seems quiet too (you mentioned he wasn't your pal when we met).

Funny you should mention him...someone I was chatting with the other day got a call from Frost, claiming he 'hooked up' with the P3 developers (in the US), and could get the product, etc. The guy he called wanted nothing to do with him, and doesn't even sell hacked product. As I mentioned above, stan certainly is not my pal...he was nothing more than a customer when he started buying batt cards very early on in '96. I was quite surprised that he had the credibility with anyone to pull off the BNG operation, thats why I got on his case as soon as I realized it was him behind it.

Any ideas re who is behind the P03? There are numerous 'newbies' distributing but they were not the developers

As far as the P3 thing happening, you want my honest opinion, my first pick would be a USC/NDS/DTV/???? sting operation. Quite frankly it is just too stupid. I go down in flames for just pulling ZKTs, and 2 weeks later some unknown bozo is gonna startup a few blocks down Dakota street from our mailbox with a full P3 fix? And nothing is happening? Sure, insipid was dropped, and it is being marketed through other channels, but that could just be regrouping due to blown covers? Of course, this is just my initial reaction.

It is also possible that this is a real legit fix, and my going down forced the hack out in some way, perhaps thinking I would rush anything I had to market or who knows, or maybe its just simply coincidence.

Do the Islands sound familiar?

I have not heard any Island references whatsoever. I have heard southern(usa) references.

I think you're removed somewhat from the P03 since the difficulties

Many people of course assume I am seated on a chair with bright lights burning in my eyes and a battery charger hooked up to my testicles, but they are not necessarily those who have any valid information anyways. I have always stayed away from the mainstream people, they are more of a waste of time than anything.

Many of my casual industry contacts do still keep me informed as to their knowledge of what is going on out there, particularly with this new development. Apparently it is quite active around TO area. One story I have heard, from what I consider a 100% credible source, puts a certain individual who is a high level dealer (ie 1st in line) IN the room with the programmer as the cards are being loaded (time and again). If this is indeed NOT you guys, isn't this a fascinating story? I have even heard physical descriptions and all sorts of things...

and are now are regarded as a $million NDS employee :-)

Let me know when the check is in the mail...I could sure use it about now...

I value your opinion.

would that be in USD or CAD? :)

If I can't get the letter through our corporate suits (lawyers) to your lawyer, can't he submit a letter to the court saying the same thing you ask of NDS?

Well, he could try, but I think it would carry a hell of a lot more credibility (and weight) from you guys. And quite frankly, I want the prosecutors to know firsthand of the manner in which I am cooperating to your benefit, hopefully they will see other matters in a slightly different light. I am not crazy about Tel Aviv, frankly. I think there are some international and safety concerns that I may simply be uncomfortable with, particularly if you cannot even submit a letter on my behalf explaining where I am going and why.

Just got off a plane checked into the hote

I, got you emails (sans virus's :-)) Could the virus have been a Frost plant when you two 'did battle' over the code?

Couple of questions (observations).

JD is back in business :-)(Strictly a distributor.

If I can't get the letter through our corporate suits (lawyers) to your lawyer, can't he submit a letter to the court saying the same thing you ask of NDS? NDS will pay for the round trip tickets (I think Canadian has nonstop flights to Tel Aviv). I'll meet you at the Tel Aviv airport and take care of all ground transportation, hotels, meals, etc.

I have to get a shower and some rest.

I'm older than you and fade easily (after 18 hours:-)

Cheers!

John

Dean the original "author" of the public file you used in the card condom apparently put a worm virus in the file. Do you know the identity of this author? Can you be sure the person who dumped it didn't know how to dump the dallas chip? Are you 100% sure the author was that sharp (anyone who understands code would have seen the backdoor)?
